Definitions

Purpose of the Directory

The primary purpose of the Directory is to make information on Caribbean regional civil society organizations available to institutions in the public, private, and civil society sectors, particularly those institutions that need to interact with civil society organizations within their spheres of operation. The structure of the Directory will evolve over time, enabling integration into national and regional program implementation modalities as practicable.

Definitions

Civil Society: The associations of citizens (outside their families, friends and businesses) entered into voluntarily to advance their interests, ideas and ideologies. The term does not include profit-making activity (the private sector) or governing (the public sector) (UN Panel of Eminent Persons, 2004, p. 13). The definition includes organizations such as trade unions, professional associations, social movements, indigenous people's organizations, religious and spiritual organizations, academe, and public-benefit non-governmental organizations.

Regional Organization: An organization registered in the Caribbean and having experience, working relationships, projects, or providing technical services in several countries within the Wider Caribbean Region.

Caribbean Civil Society Organization: A civil society organization that is registered in a Caribbean country, and whose main office is located in a Caribbean country.

Extra-regional or International Civil Society Organization: A civil society organization that is registered in a country outside the Caribbean, whose main office is located outside the Caribbean, and who works in countries within and outside the Caribbean.

Regional Program: A program that is not restricted to a single country or a sub-regional group of countries.

Regional Inter-Governmental Arrangement/Processes: Arrangements established by formal agreements (such as charters or treaties) between lawful representatives of states (e.g. Caribbean Forum, Association of Caribbean States, Caribbean Environment Programme, Caribbean Community).

Information Network: Network organized to facilitate information sharing, knowledge management, or technical expertise in support of a specific program.

5. Caribbean countries in which the organization has offices:

- Trinidad and Tobago

6. Caribbean countries in which the organization operates or has operated:

- Wider Caribbean Region

7. Purpose of organization (1 sentence).

Mission: CANARI promotes and facilitates stakeholder participation in the stewardship of natural resources in the Caribbean.

8. Program Areas - give titles and thematic focus:

Under its 2020-2030 Strategic Plan, CANARI's work is organised into four Themes:

- Resilience – This theme's goal is to utilise participatory approaches to improve the resilience of communities, livelihoods and ecosystems in the Caribbean to climate change and natural disasters. Principle areas of work:
  - Ecosystem-based and community-based approaches (EBA/CBA) to adaptation, mitigation and disaster risk management.
  - Climate proofing natural resource-based enterprises and livelihood resilience.
  - Research and knowledge sharing and management on climate change and disaster impacts, vulnerabilities and solutions, particularly focused on local and traditional knowledge and practices.
  - Technical capacity building of civil society organisations (CSOs), local communities and resource users and managers to scale up actions on climate change and disasters.
  - Mainstreaming climate change and disaster considerations through participatory policy development and planning at community, sectoral, national and regional levels.
  - Strengthening mechanisms for participatory climate governance and management, including enhancing civil society's access to climate and disaster finance.

- Biodiversity and Ecosystems – This theme's goal is to utilise participatory approaches to conserve and sustainably use the Caribbean's biodiversity, ecosystems and natural heritage. Principle areas of work:
  - Supporting local-level natural resource stewardship.
  - Promoting landscape-level management initiatives.
  - Building the health and resilience of Caribbean ecosystems.
  - Rehabilitating and restoring ecosystems.
  - Strengthening participatory frameworks, mechanisms and knowledge bases.

- Equity – This theme's goal is to promote and support economic development models in the Caribbean that are more inclusive, environmentally sustainable and resilient, with local nature-based enterprises as a key pathway to achieve this. Principle areas of work:
  - Supporting local community nature-based micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) via capacity building using innovative tools.

- Creating a more enabling institutional framework to support MSMEs, including via transforming policies, laws, regulations and financing.
  - Supporting rural community-driven creation or scaling up of viable livelihood options based on the sustainable use of ecosystem goods and services.
  - Environmental valuation and natural capital accounting.
  - Promoting transformation to economic development models that are environmentally sustainable, fair in spreading economic benefits, and resilient to climate change and other risks.
- Participatory Governance – This theme’s goal is to enhance capacity and institutions to support civil society stakeholders to engage effectively and equitably in the governance and management of natural resources in the Caribbean. Principle areas of work:
    - Civil society organisational strengthening including in the areas of planning, monitoring, evaluation and learning, resources/ capacity, governance, management, and stakeholder engagement and partnerships.
    - Strengthening governance mechanisms/ frameworks (funding, policy, legal, fiscal, structures, processes).
    - Voice and advocacy.
    - Partnerships.
    - Engaging the marginalised and vulnerable (including resources users, gender, resource dependent, poor and disempowered).
